

“My Journey: A Life According to God” is the first person story of God’s coming of age as the parent of humanity and what God may think of His Children’s triumphs as well as their tragedies. Part process theology, part history, and a lot of humor, the novella takes the reader through both the history of humanity and God’s growing relationship with His Children. What did God think of Cain? Of the Tower of Babel? What about the Rise of Islam, The Inquisition, and the Age of Colonization? Read along as God watches the Enlightenment and the rise of Deism and Science. What must God have thought of the World Wars? In the tradition of Theodore Parker and Martin Luther King Jr, see God’s hope that while the moral arc of history may be long, but it bends toward peace and understanding. If you’ve wondered what God might think of Man’s history, then “My Journey: A Life According to God” will both stimulate the mind and while entertaining the soul. ~Tom keefete@gmail.com
