

The Best of the 2006 Entrepreneurial Bootcamp

Twenty Messages Explaining a Real-World Vision for Biblically-Principled Entrepreneurship and Families Working Together. Christian entrepreneurship is purposeful. It involves the calling of men to live fruitful, productive, creative, problem-solving, dominion-oriented, kingdom-advancing, Lordship-loving lives. This is manifest as men advance their roles as fathers, reformers, leaders, servants, masters, and visionaries. Not all men will start independent businesses, but all Christians (both masters and servants, parents and children) should be entrepreneurially oriented as to their management, investment, and creative use of assets and resources. Draw from the collective wisdom of highly-effective Christian entrepreneurs and family men who share a lifetime of wisdom, illustrating both successes and failures, for a victorious vision of economic and spiritual fruitfulness. Learn how Christian entrepreneurship can and must emphasize multi-generational faithfulness, inheritance, jurisdiction, and the household as an economically productive, God-ordained unit for cultural transformation.
